

CODEBOOK

Definition of Aspect Categories

Aspects refer to specific attributes or components of a product or service that customers frequently comment on in their reviews. Each aspect is organized into general categories (e.g., Product, Price, Delivery) and may include more specific subcategories (e.g., Durability, Affordability, Correctness) to provide a finer granularity of analysis. Annotators are expected to label each identified aspect with both its general and specific category, based on whether the aspect is directly mentioned or contextually implied in the review. Annotators should assign a GENERAL tag when there is no clear modifier or accompanying word that specifies a sub-aspect.

General Aspects and their Specific Aspects

- Product for reviews that discuss the physical attributes, appearance, and performance of the item itself. This includes how well the product meets expectations in terms of fabric, size, condition, color, and usability. e.g. “different yung quality sa nabili ko before.”, “good quality”
 - Color for reviews that refer to the appearance or accuracy of the item's color as received vs. expected. e.g. "true to color.", "kupas yung kulay pagdating."
 - USE WHEN: There are mentions of the actual color versus the listed color, or general comments about the product's shade or hue. (e.g., "maganda yung kulay," "pangit ang shade")
 - DO NOT use when: The color issue is due to receiving the wrong item variant entirely (e.g., ordered blue, received red)
 - Condition for reviews that focuses on the item's state upon arrival, whether it was new, damaged, or defective. e.g. “may gasgas yung product agad pagdating pero sealed naman yung box.”, "incomplete parts pag open ko ng box."
 - USE WHEN: the product has scratches, dents, tears, is incomplete, or has manufacturing flaws discovered upon opening, even if the packaging was intact.
 - DO NOT use when: Damage is clearly attributed to shipping or transit. The item received is completely different from what was ordered.
 - Correctness for reviews that states when the product lacks expected accessories or parts, or includes mismatched elements. e.g. “Sa photo may kasamang charger pero wala sa box.”

- USE WHEN: the item received is the correct general product, but some details, features (e.g., "dual SIM"), version, or inclusions (e.g., "charger") are different from what was advertised or expected based on the listing.
 - DO NOT use when: A completely wrong item was. The color is different, but the item model is correct. The size is different.
- Durability for reviews that discusses the product's longevity or resistance to wear and tear. e.g. "kakabili ko palang nung sapatos last week sira na agad swelas"
 - USE WHEN: There are mentions of fragility, easy breakage, material strength relating to wear and tear, good build quality for longevity, or how long the product lasts or is expected to last.
 - DO NOT use when: The damage is due to delivery or the user received it already broken due to pre-shipment issues.
- Effectiveness for reviews that indicate whether the product performs or delivers the expected result. e.g. "Gumagana naman pero 'di kasing ganda ng inaasahan ko yung resulta."
 - USE WHEN: The reviewer talks about the results, performance, or efficacy of the product in achieving its main function (e.g., "nakakaputi ba?", "mabilis ba mag-charge?").
 - DO NOT use when: The product doesn't work at all or malfunctions.
- Functionality for reviews that refer to whether the product performs its intended purpose (mostly applicable to clothing items with zippers, buttons, or hybrid items like heated jackets). e.g. "Hindi gumagana yung power button."
 - USE WHEN: The product, or parts of it, fail to perform their intended task, are defective, do not operate, or a specific feature is not working.
 - DO NOT use when: The product performs its function, but the quality or extent of the result is not as expected. The issue is about overall longevity or easy breakage from use.
- Material for reviews that talks about the texture, fabric, or material composition. e.g. "good product makapal yung tela niya."
 - USE WHEN: There are descriptions of softness, heaviness, material type (e.g., cotton, plastic, metal), material quality (e.g., "good quality plastic," "cheap fabric"), or texture.
 - DO NOT use when: The comment is primarily about how the product performs its function. The comment is primarily about the product's longevity due to its material. The color of the material.

- Sensory for reviews that captures sensory experiences like smell, softness, etc.
e.g. "Ang bango ng lotion na ito, amoy baby!"
 - USE WHEN: Smell, taste, sound characteristics, Sensory experiences beyond touch and sight, Sensory satisfaction or dissatisfaction, and Sensory expectations vs. reality
 - DO NOT use when: feedback is about the general texture or type of material, visual color of the product, product's core functionality or effectiveness being sound-based, product being too loud or too quiet if it indicates a malfunction or poor performance of a primary function.
- Measurement for reviews that refer to the fit or sizing accuracy of the item. e.g. "Medyo masikip sa akin yung medium size nila."
 - USE WHEN: The item is described as too small, too big, not true to size, or when commenting on the accuracy of its measurements or overall fit.
 - DO NOT use when: The size issue is due to receiving the wrong variant.
- General for reviews that mentions a general product-related aspect without a specific sub-aspect. e.g. "Quality is okay naman."
 - USE WHEN: Feedback like "maganda" (good), "pangit" (bad), "okay lang" (it's okay) is given for the product itself, without further elaboration on why (e.g., not specifying if it's about material, durability, etc.).
 - DO NOT use when: Any specific issue or praise related to other product aspects is mentioned.
- Delivery for reviews focusing on the shipping experience, including the speed of delivery, the condition of the package upon arrival, and packaging quality. e.g. "nadeliver naman yung item."
 - Condition for reviews that states whether the item was damaged or intact upon arrival. e.g. "maganda naman sya kumportable sa katawan kaso may damage nung dumating."
 - USE WHEN: The product or packaging was damaged (e.g., dented, wet, crushed, torn) during shipping. Also use for comments on good/protective packaging that ensured safety during transit.
 - DO NOT use when: Damage or defect is inherent to the product itself and not due to shipping. The wrong item was delivered.
 - Correctness for reviews that mention whether the customer received the exact item they ordered, including the correct color, size, or variant. e.g. "tagal ko hinintay tas wrong color? never order from this shop!"

- USE WHEN: The delivered product does not match what was specifically ordered (e.g., ordered blue shoes, received red shoes; ordered size Large, received size Small).
 - DO NOT use when: The item model is correct, but some product specifications or features are wrong as per the advertisement. The item is correct but damaged during.
- Timeliness for reviews that mentions whether the item arrived on time, early, or late. e.g. "1 star lang kasi ang tagal dumating hindi na umabot sa xmas party ng anak ko."
 - USE WHEN: There are mentions of delivery delays, early arrival, or the duration it took for the product to arrive.
 - DO NOT use when: General comments about delivery without reference to speed.
- General for reviews that mention the delivery without specifying speed, correctness, or condition. e.g. "nadeliver naman yung item."
 - USE WHEN: The reviewer makes a general statement about shipping or the courier (e.g., "delivery was fine," "courier was polite") without specifying positive or negative aspects like speed or package condition.
 - DO NOT use when: Specifics about delivery time, package condition upon arrival, or correctness of the delivered item are mentioned.
- Price for reviews focusing on the cost of the product, whether it is affordable, and whether it offers good value for the money spent. e.g. "okay lang yung price niya"
 - Affordability for reviews that mentions whether the product is expensive or budget-friendly. e.g. "manipis lang pala ang damit pero goods na din kase 250 lang naman."
 - USE WHEN: The focus is specifically on the price being low or affordable, often with "mura" (cheap) being the keyword.
 - DO NOT use when: The comment is about the price in relation to its quality or features. It's just a general statement about price without judgment of it being low.
 - Value_for_Money for reviews that discusses if the product's quality matches its price. e.g. "manipis maliliit ang sizes sayang pera nyo pag bili nito"
 - USE WHEN: The reviewer evaluates if the price is justified by the quality or benefits received; mentions of "sulit" (worth it), "worth the price," "overpriced," "good deal for the quality."
 - DO NOT use when: Only affordability (low price) is mentioned without linking to quality. Only general, neutral price comments are made.

- General for reviews that talk about the price in general terms, without evaluating affordability or value. e.g. “okay lang yung price niya.”
 - USE WHEN: The price is mentioned without clear judgment on whether it's cheap, expensive, or good/bad value. Can also be used when the price is stated as being "as expected," "standard," or just stated objectively
 - DO NOT use when: The product is explicitly called cheap/affordable or expensive. The product is judged on its value for money.
- Service for reviews focusing on the overall quality of service provided by the seller or shop. e.g. “mahina talaga service ng shop na to”
 - Handling for reviews that refer to how the seller or shop prepares, packs, or inspects the item before shipping. e.g. “Sana chineck muna bago pinadala.”
 - USE WHEN: There are comments on item issues potentially caused by poor handling, checking, or internal packing by the seller (e.g., wrong item packed due to not checking, item damaged due to poor internal packaging by seller even if outer delivery packaging is fine). Also for good pre-shipment preparation by the seller.
 - DO NOT use when: Damage is clearly due to courier mishandling during transit. A wrong item was delivered, and the comment is only about the error itself, not the seller's checking process. General comments about seller service.
 - Responsiveness for reviews that mention how quickly and effectively the seller responds to inquiries, concerns, or issues raised by the customer. e.g. “wrong color ang dumating. chinat ko na ang seller kaso walang reply, hays”
 - USE WHEN: There are mentions of no reply, late reply, quick reply, helpfulness of answers, politeness in communication, or clarity of information provided by the seller.
 - DO NOT use when: General service comments not related to communication. Comments about automated system messages unless reflecting on seller's setup.
 - Trustworthiness for reviews that question or praise the seller's honesty, reliability, or whether they delivered a legitimate product. e.g. “Fake yung product, nanloko sila.”
 - USE WHEN: Fraud, fake items, deceptive product listings or practices, or highly suspicious actions by the seller are explicitly mentioned or strongly implied.

- DO NOT use when: The issue is a simple mistake unless clear intent to deceive is stated. Product quality is just poor but not explicitly called fake.
- General for reviews that mention the service in general terms without pointing to a specific sub-aspect. e.g. "mahina talaga service ng shop na to."
 - USE WHEN: General comments about seller service (e.g., "good service," "bad service," "seller was helpful") without specifics on how or why.
 - DO NOT use when: Specific issues like seller's response time/quality, how they prepared/checked the item, or seller trustworthiness are mentioned.